Becoming
a place of growth
where in focusing on our goals
we lose sight of the world where in merging our knowledge with life
we gain sight of the universe

Carl Sandburg

From all the possibilities of that which we might be how is it we become only one?
I becoming people
The Medical College of Virginia
one of the nation's most outstanding medical centers has been delivering health care, medical education, research, and community services to Virginians since 1838.
Today's Medical Center joins the efforts of physicians, pharmacists, nurses, and other health care professions with those of other disciplines such as biochemists, pharmacologists, immunobiologists, biophysicists and others in a common cause to find the cause and the cure of disease. Because of this interdisciplinary approach which MCV has exhibited over the years, health care in Virginia, in the region, and indeed health care in the world has benefited through the research in the basic sciences, clinical research, and hospital care performed at the Medical College of Virginia.

MCV: a continuing dedication to health care delivery evolving with technology, responsive to today's needs becoming the hospital for tomorrow.
Therefore, health care in every county, city, and hamlet in Virginia has been improved through the existence of MCV in the region. Three of the six schools at MCV are the only such schools in Virginia; the Schools of Allied Health Professions, Dentistry, and Pharmacy. The remaining schools are those of Basic Sciences, Medicine, and Nursing. Supporting the education programs are the five teaching hospitals which contain more than 1,000 beds.
The hospitals are presently beginning a program of construction and renovation which will cost $100,000,000 - one of the most ambitious programs of modernization in the history of the Commonwealth of Virginia. Complementing the new construction program is a management reorganization which will result in more efficient administration of hospital facilities and utilization of hospital human resources.
The Medical College of Virginia has achieved national recognition in many areas including its program in Family Practice Medicine, its transplant team, its developing Cancer Center, its work in head trauma, its treatment of burn patients, and in many areas of its continuing education programs for the several professions.

Last year:
- MCV scientists received $13,000,000 for research.
- More than 6,000 Virginia physicians received some form of continuing education and renewal through MCV continuing education programs.
- More than 260,000 days of patient care were delivered in MCV hospitals.
- 168 entering medical students were accepted from among a pool of applicants numbering 3,400.
- 511 resident physicians were enrolled in MCV's house staff programs.
- 74 Ph.D. degrees were conferred by MCV in the past 4 years.

Although the majority of the 11,000 living alumni remain to practice their professions in Virginia, MCV alumni are also to be found in every state and in many foreign countries. The support they generate is signal to its continued development. The 1977 graduates who will join them are expected to enlarge this support effort.

We each came with dreams that were similar in nature. With us also were basic fears and the solitude of our new surroundings seemed to be awaiting us. But time helped abolish the troubles and replaced them with friendships. Soon an atmosphere of understanding developed and true companionship resulted. There was always someone to go to, someone to listen, someone to explain. And most important of all there was always someone to help us make it through. As a group we gave the support that was so necessary to keep us going. No one had to stand against the obstacles entirely alone. And the experience of our first year together will always be with us to enable us to help others we have come to know.

faculty and administration
The Student Government Association experienced an extremely active year. The $140 Consolidated Fee was questioned in detail, resulting in a revised fee representing services or goods used per student. Establishment of a functional board to oversee the operations of the MCV Student Center was undertaken. Discounts to various cultural events were expanded to include the VCU Theatre, Virginia Museum Theatre, Richmond Symphony and Synfonia as well as the popular artist series. Relations with the Alumni Association were expanded along with improved communications with the administrative staff and faculty.

Community service projects such as a blood drive and a state-wide Career Day for the health professions were accomplished. Revision of the SGA Constitution was undertaken. Management of the MCV ring fund was reviewed. Social events included two dances, three beer blasts, three disco nights, and a spring 'field day' picnic.

Relations with other university publics were improved through involvement with the University Assembly, Council for University Affairs, VCU Legislative Liaison Committee, Athletic Committee as well as the Academic Campus student affairs board structure. Personal contact with student leaders on the Academic Campus was established and maintained along with all key university persons. These relationships provided the basis for realignment of certain administrative functions in the student affairs and honor code areas to better serve the needs of MCV students.

Through SGA efforts, Bank Americard/Master Charge was established in the MCV Bookstore, the Student Directory and 'X-Ray' were published, and graduation invitations were ordered and distributed.

Under the leadership of Russ Long, President, Terry Talley, Vice President, Gary Avakian, Treasurer, and Emelyn Mills, Secretary, SGA pursued a very assertive role in 1976-77.

At REVCO, it's the pharmacist up front that counts

The major and basic difference between Revco's 863 stores and ordinary drug stores is the Company's marked emphasis on its prescription business. Revco pharmacists now fill prescriptions at the rate of more than 32 million a year.

Obviously, the operation of high-volume prescription stores such as Revco's and the simultaneous maintenance of high professional standards requires the services of registered pharmacists of high proficiency and character.

That's why when we say, "at Revco, it's the pharmacist up front that counts," we mean it! Of course, if in addition to working in a highly professional environment, you're interested in the more mundane matters such as . . .

- Revco's training program for interns is the most outstanding in the profession
- Revco offers a stock participation retirement plan that provides security and financial growth
- Revco's rapid growth and continuous expansion program offers many opportunities for advancement to management positions

. . . Then, you should definitely explore your future with Revco. If you are interested in a position in Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Arizona, Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland, Florida, South Carolina, Kansas, Missouri, Texas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Georgia, Indiana, Alabama, or Oklahoma, then write.

Why are more dentists than ever before coming to Healthco dealers? We have a little list. If you aren't a Healthco customer yet, look us over. Perhaps, like our regular customers, you'll discover that when you buy from Healthco, you always come out ahead:

1. In-depth inventories — all leading brands — plus economical quality Healthco brands
2. Service departments staffed with factory-trained technicians.
3. Service vehicles stocked with extensive replacement parts to minimize your downtime.
4. Equipment loaners available — to keep your practice productive.
5. Experienced store management — with individual store personality.
6. Specialists in space planning, architectural and interior design.
7. Professional management counseling on office and staff management, patient relationships.
8. Expert counseling on insurance coverage.
9. Associate placement service.
10. Expert counseling on financing equipment and construction — conventional or lease.
11. Custom Acquisition Program (C.A.P.) for budgeting annual purchases of merchandise and small equipment at lowest possible cost — with monthly payments, no interest.

Remember the summer of '76?

This summer, four young people joined The Upjohn Company as part of the NPC Pharmacy Internship Program.

They added to their educational process ... learned about manufacturing, quality control, pharmaceutical research, and marketing/sales.

We hope we answered their questions. Certainly, we took their suggestions to heart.

And when the 10-weeks were over, we parted knowing that we'll enjoy seeing each other in the years ahead.

And reminiscing about the summer of '76.

Reflections

It's finished - in spite of everything. Missed deadlines, the staff that disappeared. The time for procrastination is over - this one can’t be missed.

What do I know about yearbooks? Is this a one man show? Pathology 'saved' for the night before the test. The grouch - escape to Sanger. My friends just call me 'flash'. Finally it's over.

The year started with the question of whether or not there would be an X-Ray. A staff was gathered and SGA gave us the go ahead. Our goal was to reflect MCV as seen through the eyes of those in the individual schools. Whether we succeeded or failed, our intentions were good. We chose the theme 'becoming' because we thought it was applicable to each school and MCV as a whole. Then the race against time began.

Special thanks to Meg for her perseverance at the typewriter and staying through to the end to ward off the ghouls that inhabit Larrick after hours. I'd also like to thank Mrs. Perkins, Elaine, Karen and the staff for their help. Steve, you can sleep now. Bill Grizzard, Steve Krause, Anne Demmon, and Neil Curtis thanks for your contributions to photography. Greg Toussaint, Charlie Kahle, Eileen Weir, Mary Noon, Patti Sisson, and Carol Cook, thanks for the use of your pictures. Without your help this book would not be.

For omitted pictures, misspelled names and other mistakes - my apologies.
